SCHURZ INDIANS WILL BE HERE

One of the big features of the Fourth will be provided through the courtesy of W. J. Otis, who has offered to personally defray the expenses of bringing a whole band of Indians from the Schurz reservation. Joe Tufts, one of the Indian service men recently back from overseas was here the other day when Billy Otis accosted him with the suggestion that he round up a bunch of the boys and bring them here with their war paint and feathers to share in the Wild West show and take part in the various sports for which special prizes will be provided. It is proposed to have the Indians and their families secure leave from the reservation to engage in a hunting expedition and gradually work up into Tonopah in time for the big doings. They will bring their teepees, horses, wagons and families and establish a village on the outskirts of town.
